President Harrison Advises Taking Them in.

His Message to Congress and Articles of the Proposed Treaty.

Annexation to the United States Preferable to a Protectorate.

An Exemplary State Document-The In terests of Foreign Powers to Be Cared for—Sugar is Not "In It."

By Telegraph to The Times.

Washington, Feb. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The treaty of annexation concluded between Secretary of State Foster and the commissioners of the provisional government of Hawali, transmitted to the Senate yesterday, is now made public.

THE MESSAGE.

The President, in his message, says the provisional treaty does not attempt to deal in detail with the question growing out of annexation. The Hato leave to the future and to the just and benevolent purposes of the United States the adjustment of all such ques-tions. The President then says:

States the adjustment of all such questions. The President then says:

It has been the policy of this administration not only to respect but encourage the continuance of an independent Government in the Hawaiian Islands as long as it afforded a suitable guarantee for protection of life and property and majutained such stability and strength as gave adequate security against the domination of any other power. The overthrow of the monarchy was not in any way promoted by this Government, but had its origin in what seems to have been a reactionary and revolutionary policy on the part of Queen Lillinokalani, which put in serious peril not only the large and preponderating interests of the United States in the islands, but all foreign interests, and, indeed, the decent administration of the civil affairs and peace of the islands. It is quite evident that the monarchy was so effect and the government so weak and in adequate as to be a prey to designing and unscrupulous persons. The restoration of the Queen to the throne is undestrable, if not impossible, and unless actively supported by the United States would be accompanied by serious disaster and the disorganization of all business interests. The influence and the interests of the United States in the islands must be increased and not diminished. Only two courses are now open, one, the establishment of a protectorate by the United States; the other, annexation full and complete.

The President thinks the latter course, which has been adopted in the treaty, will be highly promotive of the best ATP. Only omce, counters bry woods store.

cure the interests of the United States.

Continuing, the President says:

These interests are not wholly selfish. It is essential that none of the other great powers secure these islands. Such possession would not be consistent with our safety and the peace of the world. This view of the situation is so apparent and conclusive that no protest has been heard from any government against proceedings looking to annexation. Every foreign representative at Honolulu promptly acknowledged the provisional government, and I think there is a general concurrence. In the opinion that the deposed Queen ought not to be restored. Prompt action on the treaty is very desirable. If it meets with the approval of the Senate peace and good order will be secured in the islands under existing laws until such time as Congress can provide by legislation a permanent form of government for the RS. Admission, including reserved seat, $1; gal-Congress can provide by legislation a per-manent form of government for the islands. This legislation should be, and I do not doubt will be, not only just to the natives and all other residents and citizens of the islands, but should be characterized by great liberality and high regard for the rights of all people and all foreigners domiciled there.

HISTORY OF THE RECENT EVENTS. In his letter to the President laving the treaty before him, Secretary of State Foster recapitulates the history of the recent events in the islands leading up to the revolution, establish ment of the provisional government, appearance of the commissioners at Washington, negotiations resulting in the preparation of the treaty and the establishment of a protectorate by Min-

Secretary Foster confirms the Presi-Secretary Foster confirms the President's statement that the revolution's was entirely unexpected so far as this Government is concerned. "At no time," he says, "had Stevens been instructed in regard to his course in the event of a revolutionary uprising. The change was, in fact, as abrupt as unlooked for by the United States Minister or the naval commander."

In regard to the protectorate Foster says: "instructions have been sent to Minister Stevens commending his action, in so far as it lay within the purview of the standing instructions to the tion, in so far as it lay within the purview of the standing instructions to the legation and naval commanders of the United States in Hawaiian waters and which tended to cooperate with the administration of affairs by the provisional government, but disavowing any step in excess of such instructions whereby the authority and power of the United States might appear to have been asserted to the impairment of the independent sovereignty of the Hawaiian government by the assumption of a formal protectorate."

the assumption of a formal protectorate."

Secretary Foster says the provisions of the treaty reserve to Congress the determination of all questions affecting the form of government for the annexed territory, citizenship and elective franchise of the inhabitants and all questions relating to the economic and political status of the islands. In conclusion he says pending negotiation he has received assurances from the representatives of the leading powers of the world in this city and from our own ministers abroad, convincing him that the incorporation of the Hawaiian islands into the Union would be regarded by these powers with satisfaction or ready acquiescence.

PREMIMENT TO THE TREATY.

The preamble to the treaty declares

The preamble to the treaty declares that the Government of the United States and the provisional government of Hawaii, in view of the natural dependence of those islands upon the United States, their geographical proximity, the intimate part taken by citizens of the United States in impers in the State.

ARTICLES OF THE TREATY.

Inili power on their respective plenipotentiaries; who have agreed upon a treaty.

In article one the government of Hawaii cedes, from the date of the exchange of ratifications, to the United States absolutely all rights of sovereignty, of whatsoever kind, in and over the Hawaiian Islands and their dependencies, such islands henceforth to be an integral part of the territory of the United States.

In the second article the Hawaiian government also transfers to the United States the absolute fee in and ownership of all public, government or crown lands, public buildings, ports, harbors, fortifications, military or naval equipments, and all other public property of every description. The existing laws of the United States relative to public lands shall not apply to such lands in the Hawaiian Islands, but Congress shall enact special laws for their management and disposition; provided that all revenue from the same, except such as may be used or occupied for civil, military or naval purposes of the United States, or may be assigned to the use of the focal government, he used solely for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands, for educational and other public purposes.

Article three states that until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing government and Hawaiian laws are to be continued, subject to the paramount authority of the United States. The President congress shall otherwise provide, the existing government and savigation; but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commerce and savigation; but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commerce and savigation; but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commerce and savigation; but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commerce and savigation; but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commerce and savigation; but until Congress shall otherwise provide, the existing commerce with the United States and foreign countries, thall pomponents not the Hawaiian Islands until Co

DATE OF THE COMMISSIONERS' RETURN. The Hawaiian commissioners were joined last night by Charles H. Cooke, who came from Hawaii as special messenger, bearing important dispatches from the provisional government to the commissioners. The members of the commission desire to leave San Francisco for Handling to the steamer and commission desire to leave San Fran-cisco for Honolule on the steamer sail-ing March 3, and hope to have copies of the treaty ratified by the Senate to carry with them. Should their desire be fulfilled they will take to the islands the first information respecting the text of the document.

English Comments on the Treaty. LONDON, Feb. 18.—The Daily Chroni ble says of the Hawailan question:

Mr. Harrison takes over much for granted when he declares the leading powers of the world will acquisect in the annexation of Hawaii by the United States.

The Daily News says:

If the Senate rejects Harrison's treaty, the well-wishers of the Republic abroad will regard it as having escaped serious danger. Americans have no advantages to gain which would counterbalance the perils of the Republic beyond the seas.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—[By the Ass. ciated Press.] In a message fowarded by Gov. Markham to the Senate this by Gov. Markham to the Senate this afternoon he says in part:

Bills have been introduced in the Legislature calling for appropriations which, including the General Appropriations which, including the General Appropriation Bill, will amount to $16,000,000. It is my desire that every just claim sgainst the State and every appropriation for necessary expenses be allowed. It is well-known that the time of the past Legislature and of the Board of Examiners had been largely consumed in the examination of doubtful claims gainst the State. My attention has been called to Senate bill No. 401, and Assembly bill No. 374, which authorise suits against the State for all claims not allowed by the examiners. I have carefully examined these bills, and am of the opinion that if they are passed the interests of all legitimate claimants will be thereby promoted, and the true interests of the State thoroughly guarded. It is customary to insert a clause in the General Appropriation. Estate are prohibited from creating a deficiency in excess of the appropriation, except in case of actual necessity, and only then on the unanimous consent first obtained of the Board of Examiners.

There should be a general law to the same intent. Inspection of the file shows that Senate bill No. 502 and Assembly bill No. 550, which have been introduced, are intended to cover this point. The State intended to cover this point. The state intended above. My attention is called to the fact that many bills have been introduced making appropriations for various purposes, exempting the same from afternoon he says in part:

forcign countries, it is not to be construed as giving the islands power to enter into any new stipulation or agreement, or to have diplomatic intercourse with any forcign government. The consular representatives of foreign governments now in the exercise of their functions until they receive exequatures from the Government of the United States.

Article four prohibits the further immigration of Uninese laborers into the Hawaiian Islands until Congress shall otherwise. Provide. Firthermore, Chinese persons of classes now or hereafter excluded by law from entering the United States will not be permitted to come from the Hawaiian Islands to other parts of the United States.

In article five the United States assume the existing public debt of the Hawaiian Islands, with the proviso that the liability shall in no case exceed $3,250,000.

Article six agrees to pay Queen Lillionian in lump sum of $150,000 din the State treasury for each coyote design in his permitted to come from the Hawaiian Islands, with the proviso that the liability shall in no case exceed $3,250,000.

Article six agrees to pay Queen Lillionian in lump sum of $150,000 din the state treasury for each coyote design for the payment of the sum of $50,000 din the State treasury for each coyote design for the payment of the sum of $50,000 din the state treasury for each coyote design for the payment of the state under the provisions of the treaty, the sugar-produces of Hawaii will not participate in the bounty provided by the McKinley law, unless Congress should extend it to the islands.

Accompanying the message and the treaty is the correspondence on the subject between the two governments, tables giving full details as to the area of the territory proposed to be annexed, the public debt, public lands, an area of the certification, etc.

The remainder of the treaty deals with details of ratification, etc.

Sugar Not INT.

It will be observed that, under the provisions of the treaty, the sugar-produce the subject between the two governments, tables gi ble for any one not very familiar with San Francisco to expect to find all of them in much short of a week's time. Again, the rent for this purpose is simply enormous, as it amounts to over $2000 per month. If the State is to pay $24,000 a year for rent, it becomes a grave question whether it is an economical proposition or not, as a matter of convenience or economy that there should be some relief. It has occurred to me that with a moderate appropriation good and summetent accommodations could be provided in the new building now being erected by the State Board of Harbor Commissioners. The location is central convenient and eminently proper. now being erected by the State Board of Harbor Commissioners. The location is central/convenient and eminently proper. One hundred thousand dollars ought to be sufficient to provide accommodations for every purpose, with the possible exception of that of the Supreme Court of the State, the location of which ought prebably to remain nearer the new City Hall. I ask your very careful consideration to this proposition.

In view of the fact that at least $11,000,000 will be required for the maintenance of the various State offices and institutions during the next two years, and that at least $800,000 will be required to put several uncompleted public institutions in condition for successful operation, and especially in view of the enormous amount of appropriations asked for, I do most earnestly urge that the appropriations for the absolute necessities of the State should have the first consideration, and allowed before those of a general character.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS. The Committee Report Favoring Their

SACAMENTO, Feb. 16 .- [Special.] The Senate select committee to investigate the railroad commissioners this afternoon brought in a report favoring the removal of the commissioners, Rea for dereliction of duty and incompetency, and Messrs. Litchfield and Beck man for incompetency. The majority report was signed by four of the committee, Senators Mahoney of San Francisco and Seymour of San Bernar dino dissenting, Senator Goucher of Fresno, also one of the committee, signed neither report. This action of the committee was a great surprise and it is now thought possible that the Senate may adopt the majority report.
If it does not it may compromise by removing Rea and allowing the others to remain in office.

The Great Struggle for Supremacy in Kansas.

Populists Throw Up the Sponge-Republicans Hold the Fort.

Five Hundred Men Armed With Baseball Bats and Broomsticks.

Republican Wolves Want a Chance to Dements Rushing in from All Parts of the State.

TOPEKA, Feb. 16. - | By the Associated Press. | The only thing needed to make war in Kansas is fighting. The condi-tions of war are all present. Opposed bodies of armed men, something to fight about, and a disposition to fight are all evident, but the war does not open. Bellicose preparations were carried briskly by both sides all day, but the Governor, by offering to compromise the difficulties, is keeping the two houses apart, and has tapered the crisis off into a very tame armed truce. The proposition for a compromise was offered to the Republican House. They finally amended it to suit their own ideas and returned it to the Governor, who announced that he would reply to-morrow, and in the meantime an armed. truce exists. This is the situation late tonight.

The whole city of Topeka appeared today to be under martial law.

Troops were marching and countermarching through the broad avenues of marching through the broad avenues of the city; men wearing yellow badges, bearing the inscription, "Deputy Sheriff," were hurrying to and fro, and cannon were being dragged through the streets. Hundreds of civilians arrived during the day from all over the State, many carried guns in cases, a few carried them under their overcoats, but more marched boldly from the station to the hotels with a rifle or shotgun flung nonchalantly over their shoulders.

The real sensation of the day was

The real sensation of the day was the disloyalty of the State troops to the Commander-in-Chief, the Governor. the Commander-in-Chief, the Governor. He rwice ordered Col. Hughes, commandant of the forces, to attack the Republican stronghold. The Colonel declined and was relieved. Then the Governor took personal command, and ordered that no provisions be allowed to pass the lines, but the order was disregarded. Then Lieut-Col. Barker, of the Third Regiment, was given command of the troops, but still the Governor's orders were disobeyed. Finally Brig.-Gen. Hettiger arrived from Wichita and took command. He let it be understood that the Republicans had nothing to fear from him. This caused nothing to fear from him. This caused the Governor great uneasiness, and, after council with the Populist leaders, after council with the Populist leaders, a compromise proposition was offered the Republican House.

The Republicans hit upon a plan this morning to strengthen their position by bringing to their aid the authority of the Sheriff, backed by a posse. The Sheriff issued a proclamation, and by noon fully one thousand men were sworn in. Not caring to take the risk of arming the recruits with frearms, the Sheriff decided to arm them with clubs. All sorts of clubs were clubs. All sorts of clubs were pressed into use from broomsticks to baseball bats. The Sheriff announced that he would make no move until a that he would make no move until a fracture of the peace actually occurred. He explained that he would regard an attempt to eject the Republicans (the legally constituted House, as he regards it) a disturbance of the peace, and would then interfere to maintain order. This action by the Sheriff, taken in con-nection with the attitude assumed by the militia, deprived the Populists of all fighting support, excepting that afforded by three provisional companies of militia and some fifty assistant sergeants-at-arms. Meantime, the Populists began to arrive, and tonight they are strongly reinforced.

DECLINES TO OBEY.

The Militia Commander Will Refuse to Eject the Republicans.

TOPEKA (Kan.,) Feb. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] The Republican House is still besieged in the Representative Hall, and the force of State militia is still posted around the Cap-itol. Col. Hughes has again declined to obey the Governor's order to eject the Republicans, and the only resource the Governor has besides the regular militia are three companies of Populist provisional troops. Should the Governor order them to eject the Republicans they would doubtless attempt to

THE GOVERNOR'S PET LAMBS Col. Warner, who has planned the Republican campaign, says of these provisional troops that they are the Governor's pet lambs, while we are the wolves now and would devour them if given an opportunity. The outlook at this hour is belligerent. The refusal of Col. Hughes to obey the Governor's or-ders has balked the Populist pregramme. The Governor will make no statement of his plans for today, but it is believed they include an order to the provisional troops to eject the Republi-cans from Representative Hall. Should that be done it will meet with armed that be done it will meet with armed resistance.

At 9 a.m. no overtaction has yet been taken, though Gov. Lewelling still asserts positively that he will drive the Republicans from the hall at the point of the bayonet. The Republicans assert, with equal positiveness, that they will resist ejection, even if they have to use arms. The Sheriff still refuses to take a hand in the trouble. It is believed that the Governor will not dare to make an effort to drive out the Republicans with his present force of provisional troops, and they may be reinforced during the day by other provisional companies to be organized.

It was openly avowed by some statesmen that their object was to tide over the next two weeks, so as to leave the present disgrace-ful condition of financial af-fairs on the incoming administra-tion of Mr. Cleveland. Whatever were Mr. Cleveland's faults as an administrative officer or political leader, he left a net surplus of $100,000,000 in the treasury. Switching off onto the Hawaiian proposed treaty, Mr. Vest said: "The other day Mr. Chandler proposed legislation prohibiting for twelve months immigration, because it was of a character to threaten the moral and political welfare of the country, and

In his reply he carefully avoided touching on any question affecting the financial policy of the next administration.

In the course of the subsequent speech-making, Senator Vest said that when Cleveland called upon Carlisle to accept the position, he (Vest) went to again because of the danger of cholera.

'Then almost immediately thereafter when the news of the Hawaiian commission's arrival in San Francisco was announced, Mr. Chandler rushed in with a resolution for the immediate annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, with their 90,000 inhabitants, about four thousand of whom are whites, and with an institution of leprosy firmly estab-lished. Now we are told there is to be another continuing appropriation for the late Queen of $20,000 a year and a bounty for their sugar. House.—The feature in the House today was the personal collision be-tween Mr. Turpin of Alabama and Mr. Waugh of Indiana, which, however, was bloodless.

The House resumed in committee of the whole the consideration of the Pension Appropriation Bill. The Chair overruled the points of order raised against the various amendments recom-mended by the Committee on Appropriations, among them those relating to the transfer of the Pension Bureau to the War Department and to soldier's widows. Mr. Burrows appealed from the decision about the transfer, but the Chair was sustained—108 to 68. After a debate the amendment transfer was disagreed to, 45 to 95. The other amendments were also defeated

Then Mr. Tarsney referred to a speech made some days ago by Mf. Tarsney said he never used such language, and proceeded to make some unpleasant remarks about men who falsified the words of their colleagues. Mr. Morse replied he had not attributed to the gentleman any words that had not been uttered by him as far as he (Morse) understood them. By this time the House fully expected a sensation, and the area in front of the Speaker's desk was crowded with members. Then Mr. Morse, yielding to Mr. Turpin to ask a question, brought about a clange between the principals in trouble. Mr. Turpin inquired of the gentleman from Massachusetts if he was aware there stood today upon the pension roll an ex-soldier drawing $19 per month for total deafness who was receiving a salary of $1800 a year, and who was employed at the telephone. When asked who this was, Mr. Turpin said he didn't know whether the man was a Democrat or Republican, but in the light of his present surroundings he supposed he was a Democrat, because he came from the doubtful state of Indiana.

"Idon't believe your statement un-

Mr. Turpin replied: "The man's name is William E. Davis."

He Thraws Cayenne Pepper in Detective Auble's Eyes While on His Way to the County Jall-Result of

Robert H. Parker, the ex-clerk of the Westminster Hotel, bad his examination vesterday on the charge of grand larceny in stealing money and jewels from guests, and was held by Justice Austin in the sum of $2000 to await trial before the Superior Court. In connection with this fact a very interesting, but to Detective Auble a very painful, incident occurred, in that Parker resorted to the highbinders' old trick of temporarily blinding that offi-cial while being conducted to the County Jail, in throwing a handful of red pepper in the officer's eyes and then endeavoring to make his escape. The case of Parker was called up at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Justice Austin's Court. The defense introduced no witnesses, and made no defense whatever. The prosecution had in the witness box not only the ladies who were robbed, but the manager and who were robbed, but the manager and chief clerk of the hotel and Chief of Police Glass, and Detectives Benson, Auble and Moffett, who conducted the case from its beginning.

Mrs. E. J. Gorham of Santa Monice mis. E. J. Gorham of Santa Monica testified to having placed her hair jew. els and her own pocketbook, besides that of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. N. Gorham of Gold Hill, Nev., who was with her party, in a hand satchel, which she gave to Chief Clerk Bohn—the first time in the afternoon, when leaving the hotel to attend the Hancock Banning reception, and again as 2.280 Banning reception, and again at 7:80 in the evening—having secured it upon returning at 5 p.m., when leaving to attend the Severence party.

Mrs. Gorbam identified the satchel, the hair jewels and the pocketbooks, and stating the amount of money in her the hair jewels and the pocketbooks, and stating the amount of money in her own pocketbook, described the denomination of the bills and coins.

Mrs. H. N. Gorham, in her testimony, corroborated the elder Mrs. Gorham's testimony as to the manner of disposing of meney, jewels and reticule, and in turn described the denomination of bills and coins in her pocketbook, the money described by the two ladies as haying been missing tallying exactly with the money contained in the ivory puff or jewel-box that was discovered hidden away among Parker's clothing in his bureau drawers. This lady also identified the hair jewels as belonging to her mother-in-law.

The evidence of Detectives Benson, Auble and Moffott all tended to the same end, which was the reiteration of the manner in which they had traced Parker to his room; how they entered the room after the door had been reluctantly opened by Parker, who, companying of a had cold immediate.

antly opened by Parker, who, com-plaining of a bad cold, immediately went again to bed and covered himself up closely, after discovering that his protestations and his display of dignity was eschewed by the officials, who plainly informed the young man that evidence secured already was conclu-sive enough to justify the search. How they accidentally discovered the box containing the money, and the arrest containing the money, and the arrest and jailing of young Parker. The evidence of Chief Glass corrob-orated that of the detectives as to the securing of Parker's clothing and per-sonal effects from his room and the sys-tematic searching of them for the hair securing of Parker's clothing and personal effects from his room and the systematic searching of them for the hair jewels; his discovery of the latter and a conversation with Parker in which that worthy endeavored to throw the stigma of a "job" upon "certain friends," who, by placing the pins in the handkerchief case after his arrest, were desirous of "cinching" him, or words to that effect.

The defense, as noted, made no pretense of offering any sort of testimony, and rested the case, when Justice Austin bound Parker over to answer lator to the charge of grand larceny.

Parker was taken down stairs, and when preparations were being made to remove him to the County Jail Detective Bosqui suggested the patrol wagon, which would also carry Parker's clothing and other effects. This Parker strenuously objected to, as not desiring to ride in the "thoodium wagon" as ordinary criminals, when Detective Auble, in his kindness, started with Parker afoot and withdut being handcuffed. Going up Broadway they started north, Parker as demure as a kitten. When opposite the Times Building, on Broadway, a lady came along, going in the opposite direction, which gave Parker an excuse to separate himself from the officer, and when they again came together Parker, as quick as a flash, threw a handful of cayenne pepper square in the detective's eyes, and, stafting back, reached First, thence down First to Spring, where Officer Hawley caught the fellow in response to Detective Auble, who, blinded and in fearful agony, was flourishing his "goun" in the air and yelling at the top of his voice, "stop, thief!"

Parker now occupies quarters in an iron tank, where he is likely to remain.

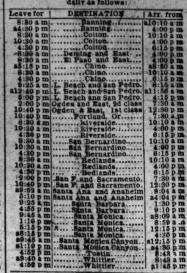

Parker secured the cayenne pepper from the restaurant furnishing him meals, they, in accordance with Parker.

Parker secured the cayenne pepper from the restaurant furnishing him neals, they, in accordance with Par-ter's request, sending a small quantity at each meal. After this, cayenne pep-per as a condiment will be denied pris-mers at the city bastile.

Now that real estate values are be ginning to assert themselves, and good business property is coming into active demand, there is a good speculation for some capitalist or syndicate that we want to point out. West First street from Hill to Olive is in an impassable condition, being a steep ungraded hill.

It is unsightly as well as useless, and makes one part of one of the most important thoroughfares in the city a veritable cul de sac. At the same time this location is within a stone's throw of the very heart of the city. Would it not pay somebody handsomely to buy up all the frontage along this unavailable portion of the street and then grade it down to a suitable level for business property? This would allow the city to expand at one of its most congested portions, and there is no doubt that, once the street is opened through on a traffic grade, business houses along there would rent at a good

To people unaccustomed to such things, it looks like a foolhardy undertaking to grade off a high hill in order to obtain building space, yet, in some of the go-ahead Western cities that have been built on rolling ground, this is nothing unusual. In Kansas City miles of business frontage have been thus secured, and in early times it was nothing unusual to see a three or four-story building erected in a cut, the roof coming about on a level with the bank of earth in the rear. There used to be a standing joke about a stranger who went out on the hills for a stroll one morning and fell down a chimney.

We believe that anybody who has the capital and nerve to go into the enterprise of opening First street, as we have suggested, would soon find himself in possession of a valuable revenue-producing property, and that the cost of purchase and grading would be less than equally good frontage can be secured for on level ground. Where

A BILL has been introduced in the Michigan Legislature which provides that convicts, persons under arrest and persons resisting arrest who commit order shall suffer the death penalty. The new law is in tended to reach such cases and to gen erally protect officers in the per-formance of their duty.

THE Tucson Citizen thinks it begins to look as though it would be an insult to the people of Arizona to appoint a resident Democrat to office, if all be true the Democratic office-seekers are saying of one another. After all, what Josh Billings said must be true: "Human nature is a good deal like a dog's tail. You can't alter the crook in it much and preserve its length."

A SENSIBLE settlement of the par ochial school question has been made in Plainfield, N. This settlement was brought about by Mgr. Satolli, and is another indication of the infusion of liberalism and common American sense in the Catholic Church. The church will grow more in America under the auspices of the Satolli movement than it has ever before.

THE Assembly has passed a bill providing for the printing of Supreme Court reports in book form to be sold to attorneys at cost price. The San Francisco Chronicle thinks that in all probability the estimate will be hocuspocused so that the lawyers will be able to buy their reports cheaply, and the deficit created by the miscalculation will be made up by that patient ass, the general taxpayer. "But," the Chronicle adds, "if the people don't wish laws that redound to the advantage of lawyers they should not send so many lawyers to Sacramento." That's just where the little joker comes in.

A communication from John A. Martin Post of Santa Monica was read, in which that post, made up of inmates of the Soldiers' Home, in which a cordial invitation was extended the encampment to visit the home, the veterans, with the cooperation of the officials of that institution, promising a hearty welcome Mr. Bessler of the Soldiers' Home, who was present, stated that preparations were being made for a grand reception of the visitors, and asked for definite information regarding the day and time of arrival of their guests. The old soldiers, Mr. Bressler said, were very enthusiastic in their anticipation of the encampment's visit.

A communication of similar tenor to that from the John A. Martin Post was received from the Riverside veter-ans, who desired information as to the day and hour of arrival of the visiting veterans, that preparations might be made in accordance. The report of the Committee on Transportation reported their success in se-curing an open one and one-third rate from all railways in Nevada and California to and from the encampment, and one fare for round trip for all ex-cursions from this city to special points during the encampment.

Owing to lack of funds the encampment officials will not be able to secure the Veteran Guard's attendance at the encampment. This will be a disap pointment to many of the old soldiers.

Closing Sessions of the Parliament at Pasadena.

"Equity. Not Privilege," Presented by Mrs. W. A. Spalding—An Excellent Paper, Which Aroused Much

Every woman who went to Pasadena on the first day of the parliament was represented by two yesterday. In fact, the coaches of the 9 o'clock train were almost exclusively filled with women, and the procession, three and four abreast, which filed up Colorado street half an hour later reached a block and half an hour later reached a block and a half.

At precisely 10 o'clock the gavel sounded and the parliament opened its second day's session, with 500 women and thirteen men present. Rev. Dr Conger offered a short prayer and then the president made a few preliminary remarks which were right to the point. "I want to emphasize a point made by Prof. Keyes in his talk last night," she said, "that we are not here to make comparisons between men and women. parliament is not waging a ser.
We have been made fun of by the war. We have been made fun of by the men for adopting the dress reform, and have been advised that our baggy dresses were not fit to wear out of our homes. We can stand that; we care nothing about it, but we do not want to be put on record as attacking our brothers—the men. God bless them." [Loud appliance 1]

The first paper presented was "Woman and Business," written by Mrs. Harriet W. R. Strong and read by her daughter, Miss Hattie Strong. The paper was divided into two sections, the first dealing with woman and the part woman has played in the world's history, and the last to woman in the business world. Some excellent in the business world. Some excellent suggestions to women who have been suggestions to women who have been left widows, and are called upon to transact business in place of their husbands, were given in the following hints: Ask no favors, because you "are a woman and helpless;" don't ask pity of any one—it is the one cheap thing given to women, cheaper even than advice. Never forget that you are a lady and no one else will. Be neatly dressed a la mode; this is self-respect, and do not bring social life and incidents into a business errand do not explain or excuse yourself; do not say unfortunately cuse yourself; do not say unfortunately you are compelled to do this for your self through the death of your husband and then begin to cry. Avoid this ground; be safe and say nothing about ground; be sale and say normal ac-it; a kind-hearted man knows it and its hardships and will show his respect in silence, and you make him most uncomfortable with a weep ing woman in his office. Don't cry—almost die first. Put it out of your head that men are knights in full armor comthat men are knights in full armor coming to the rescue. Times are changing, men are still knights, but they work for women in different way. Do not speak of yourself at all, but see right at the business in hand. Ris at most wholesome antidote for a despairing state of mind. If gentlemen do not take off their hats in the elevator of a business block, think nothing of it—it is business equality. equality.

In conclusion, Mrs. Strong presented her ideas of establishing a Queen Isabel business college, designed for women business college, designed for women only.

Mrs. Kate Tupper Galpin opened the discussion with a tentininute talk, which, at the persistent desire of her auditors, lengthened into twenty minutes. Mrs. Galpin referred to the paper in appreciative terms and indorsed many of its excellent points. "There is one point of the paper, however, that I cannot see quite so clearly as the rest," the said; "and that is the need of a business college for women. We have many business colleges now, and none bars its doors to women. I believe that a business colwomen. I believe that a business college, of all colleges in the world, should be for men and women. The next paper was "Cupid Reformed," by Rev. Florance Lonsbury Pierce, who, with her husband, has recently come to this Coase to reside. It was one of the brightest papers read before the parliament.

The law has tried to remedy the avils wrought by Cupid, but how ineffectual it has been, for the law cannot bind up the hearts torn and blesding, or replace the years wasted in unhappy wed, lock. The only remedy lies in prevention. As a first step the standard of marriage must be raised. The necessity for this high ideal is popularly overlooked. With the majority marriage means little more than any other social custom—it is done at a stated age, at a stated time and ing stated manner. Few venture to depart from the conventional customs. Whom they shall marry is determined largely by convenience, by accident or capriclous sentiment. sentiment.

Experience in the world is needful defore a man or woman is capable of Experience in the world is needful. Before a man or woman is capable of judging whether they have found their true mate some chance for comparison is necessary. The most important thing is to bring together the right halves. Better be wedded to a beautiful ideal than to compromise with a commonplace, conventional marriage. One of the most fatal inpediments to married happiness is the domestic pocketbook, which reveals the lack of the wife's independence. Young women of independent incomes are beginning to question the advisability of exchanging $10-a-week positions for 10-cents-a-month men.

exchanging $10-a-week positions for 10-cents-a-month men.

Mrs. Murphy of McPherson, Kan., wife of Dr. Murphy, formerly of this city, led the discussion of this paper, telling first, in entertaining style, Charles Lamb's story of Cond. "I am loth to blame Cupid for all the mismatches," she said, "for often Midas grasps the bow and sends many an arrow to its mark. In taking for better or worse, it is always best to cultivate the better."

The paper of the afterno "Equity, Not Privilege," press Mrs. W. A. Spalding. This a paper and its after-discussion more enthusiasm that any press Two of the sentiage any press Going back to earlier govers when "the divine right of reigned, and tracing the world's briefly, and up to the time of the ing of the American Republic, Mrs. Spalding pointed out the inconsistencies of that Declaration of Independence which declared "all men free and equal," and then for more than eighty years held the colored race in bondage. Freedom finally came to the black man, not as privilege, but as an equity. That same Declaration of Independence also declared "that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." Are not women "governed?" Are they not taxed? Are they not called upon to sustain our institutions? Are not men and women created "free and equal?" And the women of America have waited 116 years for the recognition of this plain women of America have waited 116 years for the recognition of this plain truth. But the day is not far distant when the Nation will concede the long-ignored principle that sex justifies no distinction in political privileges. The doctrine of the divine right of men to rule rests on exactly the same foundation as that of the divine right of kings.

We may recognize in existing govern ments the power to extend or withhold our natural prerogatives, but we deny the right or the power to keep from us our equities. We derive our title to life, liberty and the pursuit of happi-ness—the right to institute and regulate governments for our own protect tion—from the same source that has given that right and title to men. The fountain head of human liberty is higher even that the Declaration of In-

The above is only the merest skeleton of an outline of the paper, whose read-ing was frequently interrupted by ap-plause long and loud.

Dr. Dorothea Lummis followed in a ten-minute review of the sentiments expressed by Mrs. Spalding, although she said in beginning, "It seems very much like discussing whether two and two make four to argue further on this question, which has been so admirably and fully presented by my predecessor."

Lincoln said years ago, in referring to this matter of woman's right to the ballot, "There is no argument." The matter of equity is not denied today by any intelligent man or woman, but ten-minute review of the sentiments ex by any intelligent man or woman, but the question is: Shall it be granted; is it convenient? One point well to pon-der is, will woman vote ou all questions of only on certain points which affect her and her children? Will she have courage to vote in Common Council? Should not the vote be coupled with the condition that she must use it? Will she use the franchise thoroughly or as it becomes an eld story do as intelligent men do now let it lapse? The discussion which followed was animated and full to the brim of interest. Mrs. Greer from Kansas—a State where women are granted municipal suffrage—gave a graphic description of how the women carried the day in elect-ing a mayor in a Kansas city of 8000 population, and after that a man rose up and thundered, "Has a man a right to speak in this meeting?" The president assured him that he might if he would come to the platform, which he did, and was introduced as Mr. Bowman of Los roused by one point—equity, not privi-lege—and he wanted to go farther and say "right, not equity." The say "right, not equity." This senti-ment was greeted with loud applause, and one brother, who must have been a Methodist, shouted "amem!"

Prof. C. H. Keyes then asked the privilege of speaking, and indorsed the same sentiments, further emphasizing them, and talked till the president's gavel reminded him that the five minutes allowed each speaker was up.

Dr. Rachel Read made a bright, breezy talk, which called out loud upplause. In reply to the hackbeyed question of who should take care of the baby while the mother voted, she perti-nently suggested that the same one might take care of it who did so when the mother went to pay her taxes.

The closing hour of the parliament was devoted to business, and complimentary resolutions were passed thank-ing Kate Tupper Galpin for her brill-lant conduct of her share in the discussant conduct of her share in the discussions, and also congratulating her upon the honor of the appointment to represent "Woman in the Pulpit" at the World's Congress in Chicago next May. A resolution petitioning the passage of the bill now pending for general suffrage was telegraped to Robert. N. Bulla, at Sacramento, if, in the wisdom of the Legislature, it is constitutional but, if not, that the bills for municipal and educational suffrage be passed.

At 5 o'clock the parliament formally adjourned to meet again in May, at a point not yet determined upon.

A telegram was received here yester day from John Sebastian, general pas senger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Road, saying that Second Vice-President W. G. Purdy, of that company had notified Vice-President J. C. Stubbs, of the Southern Pacific, and General Manager K. H. Wade of the Santa Fé's Southern California lines, that the Rock Island would with-draw from the east-bound Pacific Coast passenger agreement. The requir-ments of that agreement call for a ten days' notice of the intention of any member to withdraw from it. After the 25th inst the Rock Island will no be bound by the agreement to refuse to sell tickets to brokers or pay commis-sions to ticket agents. Until that date General Passenger Agent Sebastian de-sires Passenger Agent Thompson in Los Angeles to maintain in every particular the agreement to maistain rates. Although the agreement lasted longer than was expected, the announcement of the Rock Island's action will cause of the Rock Island's action will cause surprise among its competitors. It means that the Rock Island proposes to be free from entangling alliances which might prevent its securing a fair share of the business, if indeed, it does not mean that the road is going to take an aggressive stand which will swell its volume of east-bound business from California. The total dissolution of the agreement will necessarily follow, and with commissions paid as of yore, and friendly relations again established with the brokers, there will be a chance of shading the regular rates to Eastern points. F. W. Thompson, passenger agent of the Rock Island in Los Angeles, will not return from San Francisco intill today, and his assistant, C. E. Smith, who is in charge of the effice, does not know what will be the policy to be pursued.

the efforts to find a good supply of water on Catalina Island. A well had been dug down ninety feet without discoverng more than a mere show of water, ing more than a mere show of water, but a shift of twenty-five feet made to one side of the bottom met with unexpected success. A large stream of water broke into the shaft, nearly drowning the workmen, so rapid was its rush, and filling the shaft to within twenty-five feet of the surface of the ground. About $25 worth of tools were left in the bottom of the well, so great was the haste of the men to escape. A tunnel will be dug to the well, which is above the town, and Avalon will now have a copious supply of pure water.

The coat from last year's seal jacket, the dress from last year's traveling dress, made up with the newest plaid. Of course, the boa was new, and it must have cost a good deal, too, but she had saved so much on the rest of the dress that she could afford to insest in a boa. Who, She Belleves, is an Innocent and a Persecuted Woman-What is Accomplished.

"Florence Maybrick may have been indiscreet, but she was never guilty of the crime imputed to her, and for which she is now enduring punishment."

The speaker was Dr. Helen Densmore, author of the volume entitled "The Maybrick Case," which is now being circulated extensively throughout ing circulated extensively throughout the United States and England for the purpose of affording the people generally, and those of England particularly, a more thorough knowledge of the history of the mysterious alleged poisoning of James Maybrick. The circumstances of the crime, which occurred in the year 1889, with the attendant trial and conviction and sentence of Mrs. Maybrick on the charge of causing her brick, and, as a champion on her side, has been unceasingly at work for many months in gratuitous labor endeavoring to call the attention of the English people to the fact that a wrong has been done. His work mentioned above is a late effort, and is destined to fulfill a double purpose. The book contains a complete history of the crime and arguments that support the theories of the wife's innocence.

ments that support the theories of the wife's innocence.

"How did I, being an American, happen to become interested in the case?" continued the doctor, in response to the reporter's query. "Well, I chanced to be in London at the time the trial came up, and read the evidence deduced at the opening of the session, and my medical knowledge at onex erved to convince me that it was all a mistake, and that Mrs. Maybrick was as innocent as I of the elleged crime."

Dr. Densmore then went on to state how she had from that moment gone assiduously to work to orgate sentiment in Mrs. Maybrick's favor, and emdeavor to secure a new trial.

Last January an enthusiastic meeting was held in New York, which Dr. Densmore and others addressed, and resolutions were adopted as an expression of the undoubted belief of the accused's innocence.

tions were adopted as an expression of the undoubted belief of the accused's innecence.

Preminent people throughout the country, among them Gail Hamilton and the late James G. Blaine, interested themselves greatly in the woman's behalf, and wrote rirong letters to the English authorities. In the death of Mr. Blaine, Dr. Densmore says, the cause loses one of its most hearty supporters. The principal difficulty, she explained, is to overcome the prejudice of England against fareign interference. If the people can once be made to listen, the philantrophists believe they can convince them of the great wrong done, and thus secure the new trial desired.

To this end the proceeds from the sale of Dr. Densmore's book will be devoted to the raising of a fund to secure good lecturers, who will be engaged to deliver a number of talks in London and neighboring cities.

Four opinions were received from the supreme Court by Deputy Clerk Sesnon resterday, for filing in this city, in relation to the following cases:

George A. Ralphs, executor of the will of Kimball Hardy, deceased (respondent.) vs. Mrs. L. E. Hensler and J. Irving Weed (appellants.) Action to foreclose a mortgage on defendant Hensler's real property, given to secure the payment of three several promissory notes, executed to Hardy in his lifetime by James P. McCarthy, as attorney in fact for Mrs. L. E. Hensler of New York, in which Weed was made a party defendant, on the ground that he had, or claimed, some interest in the property. The Court found upon all the issues in favor of plaintiff, and defendant, Hensler, appeals from the judgment and an order denying her motion for a new trial, contending that the Court erred in admitting her power of altorney, notes and mortgage, and claiming that Hardy agreed to extend the time for the payment of the money in controversy, provided the accrued interest was paid up, and that therefore they were not due until after the action had been commensed. Appellant further contends that the evidence does not justify the findings that Hardy died before the commencement of the action: that his will was admitted to probate; that letters testamentary were is sued to plaintiff, or that plaintiff ever qualified to act as executor; and the Court sustains, these points, holding that the trial court had no right to take judicial notice of the fact that the probate proceedings in the maiter of the easts. "Make Room Clearance Sale!

For two reasons we are willing to ignore profit for the remainder of this month.

FIRST-Our Spring stock will be immense and we must make room for it.

SECOND-We are about to make extensive improvements to our store, and would rather sell our goods than have them get dusty.

This is not a Now Listen! pushing out of prehistoric styles or antidiluvian relics - we never had any-but a genuine clearance of sightly, saleable, and in many cases, staple woolens.

A dose of Spring medicine is good for things inanimate as well as animate. Well, that's what we're doing: toning up our stock, besides we want to tickle competitors.

TE have ready-made roller towels. They will cost you the same as the crash. We charge of embroidery crash. The good wide kind. A nice line of butcher's linen in bleached and unbleached. Real linen lawns for needle work. Fine, medium and wide check nainsooks; also satin stripe nainsooks in all widths. White and corded piques in medium and fine goods. Excellent wearing toweling, Fine glass towels. Barber and dentist towels; bath and drying towels; fine hemstitched huck towels at a medium, low price. Turkey red table cloths and napkins; fine, white, German linen table cloths; also colored bordered table cloths. Out of the large variety can't you think of something that you need? The prices in our linen department are based upon moderate profit. This department is now selling as many linens as any four of the largest linen departments in the city. We have everything in table linens; everything in napkins' and some very special bargains in napkins both fringed and plain. There is a fine lot of German crashes, table linens and napkins that are extra heavy, well twisted and most excellent for wear. The prices are low. Elegant crystal cut glassware free to every purchaser of $1 worth or more in the linen department. A few doubting Thomases said that it would not pay to close Saturday nights. We say it does pay, and it pays handsomely. The laboring element of this city knows it is right, and they recognize the right of this by a large increase in patronage. There is no house in this city that can compare with this in the large increase in trade. There is not a house in this city that can hold a candle to us in sales. This is apparent to anyone. We are doubling up trade in dress goods. One hundred feet of counter room devoted exclusively to the sale of dress goods. Fifty different designs in Cheney Bros, India silks at a dollar a yard. The best silks in the world for the money. Excellent for blouse waists. Best dollar 46-inch henrietta you ever saw, A good, serviceable dollar corset for 50c. Ladies' extra quality night gowns for $1, $1.25 and $1.50; best we ever offered for the money. Selling out shoes. You can save from 50c to $2 a pair while the stock lasts. Read Sunday's TIMES.

THE BENT BY CASE The Exami ation of he Alleged Wife-poisoner to Commence Today.

There promises to be some very ineresting, if not sensational, developments in the Bentley wife murder case when the examination of Henry Bent-ley, the accused, comes up this morning in Justice Seaman's court. It is a well-known fact in police cir-cles that Detective Lawson has been working upon this case with the most who king sport ans case with the most untiring energy. It is conceded by all who know of the work being done that important evidence has been secured, while both Detective Lawson and Will Nordholt, the son of the dead woman, promise some very startling and very sensational developments.

Bentley has gradually been losing flesh, while his bloodless face and the haunted expression of his eyes bear out the testimony of his keepers that he is restless and worrying considerably.

Some of the interested parties of the prosecution affect to believe that Bentley and the state of the prosecution affect to believe that Bentley that Bentley that Bentley and the state of th some of the interested parties of the prosecution affect to believe that Bentley will make a clean confession of the whole matter before the trial comes to an issue. This is indicated, they claim, by his disctarging Hayford, his attoracy, and his apparent suspicion of everyone with whom he comes in contact.

There is a growing interest in this case manifested by the lega, traternitwho will probably be well represen at the examination today.

Petty Orienters.
S. Terrell and Joseph Dillon, two very healthy specimens of the genus hobo, were arrested while begging on Main street, by Officer Kinney yesterday. Charley Dinninger, a ten-year-old tough, was yesterday booked, at the in-stance of his mother, as an 'incorrigi-ble,' and will probably be sent to the Reform School

By this arrangement a saving of about $500, on she had been done for the period amounting to thought a saving of about $500, on better the present content with the work of papering, land the work of the work o will cost about $750, so that, as already stated, the city will be in about $2000 on the new deal.

The reporter yesterday inspected the new premises and they were not found wanting. The city, beside saving some money, will have better offices than it had before. The lease includes the entire building with the exception of the front room on the ground floor, where Mr. White's store is located. The entrance is on the north, or Union street side. The rear of the first floor will be occupied by the City Clerk and Tax Collector. Here the new vanit, which is nearing completion, is located. On the second floor a large and airy apartment occupies the entire west end. Here City Recorder Rose will administer justice. Smaller rooms on the north side will be occupied by the Marshal, Street Superintendent and City Englineer, and a large apartment on the northeast corner will be fitted up as a Council chamber. A communicating room fronting on Fair Oaks avenue will be set apart for the use of City Attorney Arthur. Several small apartments on the south side of the building will be utilized for various purposes not yet fully determined upon. The entire interior is being fitted up in neat and attractive style, which insures comfortable and commodious quarters for the hard working city efficials for the next five years.

OEF THE TRACK.

The Santa Fú train that arrived here from San Bernardino at 12:58 o'clock yesterday afternoon got off the track between the Colorado street crossing and the station. A gang of workmen had been repairing the track at this point, and, after the locomotive and two forward coaches had passed safely over, several of the newly-laid rails on the east side of the track spread, and the two rear coaches left the track and were joiled for some yards over, the ties before the train was brought to a standstill. The crew worked hard to right matters, but it was not until after a wrecking crew had arrived from Los Angeles, about 3 o'clock, that snything was accomplished. It was nearly 4 o'clock before the cars were pulled back on the track, and by this time the rails had been replaced on newly-laid ties, so that there was no further delay in the running of trains. The operations of the wrecking crew were watched with interest by a large number of citizens.

The idea is a happy way of emphasizing the impertance of carrying out this much to be desired work, which, by the way, is likely to be accomplished soon ewing to the activity recently manifested by the Council in this direction. It is probable that before summer time, not only Colorado street, but Raymond and Pair Oaks avenues will be paved.

County Division Has Given Way to the City Election.

The people have turned their attention from county division to the city election, and the interest is a very lively one. Already the Prohibition people have begun active work to elect their Councilmen from the First, Third and Pifth wards, in which wards the election is to be held in April. The anti-saloon people-have not yet made known any names to the general public, but they are making strenuous efforts to get men whom they are sare can carry the wards. They will have to carry all three wards to have a majority in the next Council. Next Sunday evening they will have Mrs. L. E. Balley, who has the reputation of being one of the strongest of temperance lecturers, speak at the Baptist Church for an hour, and then she will repair to the Congregational Church and speak for another hour. An effort will be made to have temperance sergions delivered at all the churches the same evening. On the other hand the advocates of high license are none the less active. They say they will have the very best temperance people before the public for their candidates, but they will be for high license, and very high at that. It is currently reported that one man has offered $5000 in cash for the privilege of running the only saloon in the city. The high license people maintain that their platform shall be about as follows, in regard to the opening of saloons:

First, that the license shall be high enough that there will not be ever two or as follows, in regard to the opening of salloons:

First, that the license shall be high emough that there will not be over two or three saloons at most. That they shall have open windows so that every one can see from the street just who is taking his "tea." That there shall be no billiard to ables and no chairs, nor any loaning.

C. H. Marshall, who was appointed to fill the vacancy of W. M. Woody. will very probably be the choice of the high-license people from the First ward. He is a young man, a representative business man, and has signified his willingness to accept. The name of E. C. Kimball has been suggested from the Fifth ward. He is a temperance man, but thinks the only way to handle the vexed question is by high license. So it will be seen interest is at a high pitch on this vuestion, and there will undoubtedly be some interesting developments as the dight progresses.

It is definitely known that there are be some interesting developments as the fight progresses.

It is definitely known that there are many members in different churches in Pomona who do not advocate the fight being dragged into the churches, as it was at the last election, inasmuch as these same members are temperance people, but advocates of high license. The question will be forced to an issue, and that very soon, in some of the houses of worship in Pomona. The Pomona Heights Railroad Company, while in operation in boom-times, mortgaged its stock to the amount of $8715 to the Pomona Bank. The bank has since failed, and the railroad company has long discontinued its street cars, which formerly ran from the Southern Paclific depot to Pomona Heights. A. P. Nichols, the assignee of the defunct bank, has foreclosed the mortgage, and the franchise, roudbed, right-of-way, cars, etc., will be sold at Sheriffs sale on the 28th inst.

to relinquish some good hard-earned doilars to the extent of several thousands. There are several Pomona citizens, among them Edwin McCullough, the son and the daughter of P. J. Dreher and W. H. Goodrich, who are interested in the matter. The land is some purchased from the Southern Pacific Railway Company by the Pomona Land and Water Company, and lies in township I south range 8 west, San Bernardino meridian, or just a few miles east of the city limits, between Ontario and Pomona. Six hundred and forty acres have already been "jumped" by Pomona citizens, who claim the land under the recent Supreme Court decisions. Mr. Dreher's son and his daughter have each taken 160 acres, as has also McCullough. Mr. Goodrich is one who is on the other side of the fence. He purchased his land in 'good acres, as has also McCullough. Mr. Goodrich is one who is on the other side of the fence. He purchased his land in 'good acres, as has also wereal thousand dollars on it. The other day he learned just in time that it was about to be "jumped," and as he had not settled upon it he hastened to do so, and has thus saved his bacon. There are several others who will be compelled to do the same thing. The land is all of the very best quality and valued at from $300 to $700 per sere.

A large part of the time of the City Trustees, at the meeting on Wednesday night, was taken up in the consideration of water rates for the cheuring year. George Cook spoke for the Domestic Water Company, and in favor of maintaining the present rates in most instances and a higher rate in others. In support of this policy he said that the company could declare a dividend of but 2 per cent. last year. A number of citizens were present at the meeting, and several addressed the Trustees. It was maintained by those who had examined into the matter, that the water company had invested heavily in improvements, which had not been figured in the dividend of 8 per cent. could have been declared had the company desired to fluid the company asks will be dissected and some vigorous objections made. It is said that the Domestic Water Company, in presenting comparisons of prices paid here with those paid elsewhere, cities are selected in which the highest rates prevail, and the cheap rates are invariably ignored. Objection will be made to the rate the now 32 per month per hydrant. As they are selected through them is insignificant, and one fourth this rate would be ample. A tack will also be registered against the charge of 30 cents per cubic foot—equivalent to about 36 2-3 cents per 1000 gallons—for water motors, while for irrigation purposes and street sprinking just one-half this rate is charged, which is compilered ampile. The latest additions to the display at the rooms of the commission are some Mission olives of superb quality and size. The branches, laden with fruit, are most perfectly preserved in great flass jars. Some beautiful dates have also been brought in, one branch bearing fruit of unusual size and perfection. No one can realize the rich color contrasts presented by the green fruit, rosset-tinged, and the wiving polden stems, who has not seen the branches imprisoned in the ground plass jars, which bring out their beauties like a lens.

DISASTROUS BUNAWAY.

There was a runaway in Santa Ana Wednesday which ended most disastrously for George W. Clark and R. J. Chastine, two countrymen who reside near the Fifthstreet bridge. Clark haddriven to town in a small spring wagon, in which were several cases of eggs, and had left his old white horse and wagon standing in front of the postomice for a few moments. Hardly had he disappeared in the postomice when Chastine's team, attached to a heavy road wagon, came tearing down the street, and, before bystanders could succeed in getting them stopped, collided with the wagon load of eggs. The runaway team reared into the air when they came to the egg wagon, and both came down on top of eggs, wagon and both came down on top of eggs, wagon and bill. There wasn't a piece of the wagon left large enough to make a good whittling stick, nor eggs enough unharmed to settle the grounds in a cup of breakfast coffee. The street was slearned that the owner of the wreck was a very poor man the sympathy of the spectators was soon aroused. The hat was passed and a perfect shower of silver was forthcoming, almost enough to buy another wagon fully as good as the one he had just had broken into innumerable pleces. Chastine is also a poor man and he is in no way to blame for the accident, as his horses broke away from him while in front of the Gildmacher Block, notwithstanding the fact that he did all he could to prevent them from running. There were 10 88 eggs in the wagon before the accident.

WILL BE GIVEN A RECORD.

Silkwood will be given a pacing record the coming season.

Ever since J. Willits announced last fall Sikwood will be given a pacing record the coming season.

Ever since J. Willies announced last fall that the great stallion would not be put in racing condition during the season of 1893, horsemen in Southern California have been lamenting the fact that he was not given a better opportunity last season to show the limit of his wonderful speed. But since Mr. Willits has concluded to put him in racing condition the coming season, local horsemen are jubliant, for they believe him to be the fastest pacer in the world. It is believed by competent horsemen who saw the great Silkwood-Our Dick, race on the Santa Ana track last fall, in which Silkwood made his race record of 2:08%; that he could have made the circuit in less time had it been necessary for him to have done so in order to win the heat. If this be true there is little doubt that the "Southern Cyclone," as he is now termed, will go below 2:04 before the close of the season of 1893.

Mr. Willits stated to the TIMES reporter yesterday that, in view of the fact that he did not get to give the horse a fair trial at Stockton last fall on account of the inclement weather, and that he is in such good form and condition now, he has decided to give him a chance during the fail months to show what he cando. "Oh, I can't tell what mark he will make, of course," said Mr. Whilits, "but I intend to give him plenty of work at the proper time, and put him in the very best condition before he makes his trial. He went around the kite at Stockton in the face of a strong wind for the first time, after being off the train less than three days. last fall, in 2:07% without any great effort, and of course I expect him to do a right smart better than that this year, if I get him in good condition."

The announcement that Silkwood will go against time in 1893 will furnish the young horse-racing enthusiasat of Orange county a topic for general discussion for the nextelleght months.

FLAM BANCH COLT SALES.

The sale of standard-bred colts and horses at the Plass ranch yesterday was not as much of a success as Mr. Willits had hoped it would be. The young horses had been on short feed for some time, and consequently were not in proper condition to bring good prices at a public sale. Mr. Willits has decided to make these sales annually, so that hereafter some prizes may be secured as surely as such opportunities will be offered the public.

ANAHRIM.

The board of directors of the Anahelm Irrigation District met Tuesday, present Korn, Porter and Stadtegger, absent Ryan and Crowther. A bid from President F. N. Myers of the Security Savings Bank of Los Angeles for the purchase of $17,000 worth of bonds of the district at 90 cents was read. The bid was accompanied by aduly-certified check for $6000. After a thorough discussion of the bid and conditions of the same, a resolution was introduced that the said bid be accepted, and the resolution was unanimously adopted. A bid for this amount of the bonds was entertained so that the district would have money to go ahead with their improvements, and the understanding was that the same terms, as the improvements progressed and the district became in need of more funds. There is now nothing in the way of the district's going right ahead with the work, and it is to be hoped that the coming season will see our district possessed of the best irrigation system in the State.

The story is a very simple one—in fact, it is the old story in a unique form. A note given in payment for property; accepted without investigating the indorsers; the property disposed of before suspicion was aroused. Thesday last the woman, accompanied by a man, who represented themselves as living on an orange ranch, visited the

by a man, who represented themselves as living on an orange ranch, visited the blocksmith shop of W. T. Holman, at New High and Temple streets, where was a second-hand buggy—"just the thing!"—for sale for the very low price of $20. The couple had no ready money, but produced collateral in the shape of a note of hand, drawn, by its date, February 1, and signed by the woman herself—Mrs. Lillie Murray, who, it was explained, carried the family who, it was explained, carried the family "sack"—while there appeared in addition the name of H. S. Clement as in dorser, who, it was explained, was a prominent Los Angeles property owner. The buggy was removed, and an hour afterward sold at a Los Angeles street second-hand store for $10, where the same orange ranch story was told and the plea of short of funds and long in bugger of wared.

the plea of short of funds and long in buggy offered.

The scheme was discovered the same evening, when Holman visited Justice Bartholemew, who issued a warrant for "Mrs. Lillie Murray and John Doe," the charge being forgery. Officer Rogers, armed with the warrant, began the search, and yesterday discovered that rooms had been secured by the woman at No. 223 South Main street, under the name of Miss Watson, representing hername of Miss Watson, representing her-self to be a single woman, but a man occupied the room with her all the same, and, as was discovered, the same who was with her when the vehicle was pur-chased, as after Rogers located the chased, as after Rogers located the room, Holman came upon the scene and did some neat detective work in tracking the fellow, who discovered he was being watched, and evidently recognized him. While Holman's detective work was good, his executive ability was below par, for he allowed the fellow to enter the crowd at the Hollenbeck, when the fellow disappeared, while Holman excitedly ran over to police headquarters, demanding of Officer Stites that he 'arrest that fellow! I want him for forgery—arrest him, I say!" when he disappeared as excitedly as he came, without further explanation. The woman was secured, and, after arraigument in Justice Bartholomew's court, was incarcerated in the County Jail, in default of $1000 bond, to secure her appearance for examination Mrs. Murray refused to talk, although she admitted that she had lived in Kausas City. To all other questions she returned the invariable answer, in she returned the invariable answer, in accordance with instructions of her attorney, who was present with the reporter, "I have nothing to say."

Mrs. Murray's attorney affects to believe that there is no case against the woman, and his argument is not with-ont color.

Mrs. J. B. Watson, alias Miss Lillie Watson, alias Mrs. Lillie Murray is very well satisfied in her quarters in the womans' ward at the County Jall, and will await the 25th inst. "with patience," she says, when at 10 o'clock she will be examined, and she affects to believe, turned loose.

THE MAN ARRESTED. Last evening a man who gave the name of H. S. Clement called at a newspaper office to protest against the pub ication of the case in an afternoon paper. The police were notified, and it being known that he was the man with the woman when the buggy was bought, he was taken in custody. Clement was taken to the County Jail and locked up, expressing his willingness to go without a warrant, but to make sure go without a warrant, but to make sure about it. Clerk Mellette was looked up and a John Doe warrant secured. Clem-ent claims to have been in the city for a year and a half. He says he is a sales-man by occupation. He denies that there is anything in the case to warrant a charge of forgery against either him-self or the woman, and says he will have no trouble in proving his inno-

Altogether the case is a very peculiar one, and some interesting developments are looked for at the examination.

About sixty stenographers were pres ent Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the association, which was held in the shorthand de-partment of the Woodbury Business partment of the Woodbury Business College. The stenographic fraternity is apparently awakening to the fact that a wide-awake association in this city will be very beneficial in many respects, and a number of the leading members of the profession are doing their utmost to get all of the stenographers interested in this organization.

Came for the Climate, Hon. James Johnson and family ar-rived here by the Southern Pacific Railroad yesterday from Ottawa, where Mr. Johnson has been for twenty-five years Commissioner of Customs of the Domin-Commissioner of Customs of the Domin-ion of Canada, until his recent retire-ment on the superannuated list. During the famous "boodle" expositions in Canada, Mr. Johnson's department was strictly investigated with the rest, but not an iota of any crookedness was found, either in his own or any of all the subordinate offices under his control. On his retirement the customs officials the subordinate offices under his control. On his retirement the customs officials presented him with a handsome and costly silver service of 167 pleces, and a framed address setting forth the above facts. The Arctic temperature of this winter in Canada has induced Mr. Johnson to seek a milder climate in Los Angeles, where he and his daughters will probably remain permanently.

The W. H. PERRY Lumber and Mfg. Co's TELEPHONE No. 1163.

We desire to interest you in the wares that we sell peculiar to yourselves. In asking an inspection of our stock and the bestowal of a portion of your patronage upon us, we advance the following argument:

We claim to sell the best merchandise that can be hought at the lewest possible prices consistent with existence; are large consumers of merchandise, using large quantities in Los Angeles, and double that quantity in San Francisco, besides buying in larger quantities to supply parties with whom we are directly connected. In this way we are in a position to handle larger amounts of merchandise than any single individual in Los Angeles. Quantity regulates price; therefore we contend that the identical article can be sold cheaper by us than elsewhere.

Our business is systematized so that we ask a smaller proportionate than elsewhere.

Our business is systematized so that we ask a smaller proportionate profit than others; the goods are marked by a gentleman who is not connected with the firm, has no interest therein, and solely upon a percentage basis. We contend that our business is conducted more in the nature of a commission, and at a more uniform percentage, than any other merchant in Los Angeles. We keep the very best goods that are manufactured, and the more that you become acquainted with us the better you will like us. We make a specialty of Shirts, Blouses, Jumpers and Jackets for engineers, firemen, mechanics and laborers. They are put up for us under our own name, manufactured by the very best concerns of the kind in the United States, and sold to you with a guarantee that if they rip with reasonable wear, we will refund the money. We want to cultivate your trade by giving you more and better than any one else will for a like amount of money.

SHOES.

When a man has a good thing and he is satisfied of it, it is a very easy matter to impress others with his conviction. When it comes to ladies and men's shoes we are right in it, both for quality and for price. We have weeded out of our stock every pair of shoes that was not a prime value, and every pair that you buy from us we guarantee to give satisfactory wear; if they do not we refund the money or give you another pair. This certainly is the safest place to trade in too Angeles.

No one can say that during our business existence they were ever denied their money for an article that they had purchased and returned or sold an article proving unsatisfactory that a sufficient recompense was not made in lieu of the shortcoming.

Our shoes are made by the very best manufacturers in the country. They are put up under our own name. We are making a reputation for our goods in every department, and selling them under our own name and not that of the manufacturer. If you are pleased with the style, the fit and the price, we will guarantee the rest. We want to sell you shoes because we save you money and give you as good if not better than any one else.

In the line of men's shoes there is nothing better made than Hanan & Son's and Lilly, Brackett & Co.'s, and we are selling these goods at the present time at what they cost us, having too many on hand.

In the line of ladies' and children's shoes you are guaranteed that everything is satisfactory, and you are buying the vest value for the money in this town.

Boys'Clothing

We have a little Bijon of a department encased on all sides so that it is entirely separate and distinct from the main store. Here mothers can come in with their little boys, seat themselves comfortably, and have the clothes tried on the little fellows to their entire satisfaction. Of course you know that the larger the business the smaller the profits, the greater the sales, and that in the aggregate there is more profit made than in doing half the volume of business and charging double the amount of profit.

The PEOPLE'S STORE is no longer the PEOPLE'S STORE it was a

The PEOPLE'S STORE is no longer the PEOPLE'S STORE it was a few years ago. It is doing business on broader principles. The tendency is upward and onward, bettering the classes of merchandise until they have reached the acme of perfection.

The present management falls to see why the PEOPLE'S STORE cannot sell just as good an article as is manufactured, and proposes to sell the same. This department claims your patronage because it thinks it can sell you as good, if not a little better, article for less money than appeared by Men's Hats.

Some people have a prejudice about coming into a department store to buy a hat. Well, the exclusive hatter can only sell a good hat, and charges you a good, stiff price for it because that is all he has to sell. There is no law on the statute books that prevents us from buying good hats and selling them at the same proportionate profit that we do anything else. In this world we have to rely upon profitses and warranties. Now we have been here twelve years, have grown from insignificance to our present proportions, occupy a somewhat responsible position in the community, and our guarantee ought to be as good as any in this town. We carry Stetson & Co.'s hats, and the only difference in the hat is that we sell it from 50c to $1 less, than the exclusive hatter. Our hats are made for us and not bought from the jobber. We guarantee every hat we sell to give satisfaction, and if it does not your money is at your disposal. There is not a house in the United States that does business under a more liberal basis. We will exchange anything, give you back your money, and do everything in our power to retain your good will and patronage. We want to create a little more enthusiasm with the gentlemen of this town is our various exclusive male departments. A little assistance on your part will encourage us to go ahead and enlarge the various stocks that we carry for you, and result greatly in your favor by purchasing from us what you do at exclusive furnishers' at a very great saving.

To the Ladies.

It will be of interest to you to come into our stores every day whether you are in want of anything of not. We are opening hundreds of cases of new goods. The styles and qualities will please you, and the prices will induce you to invest.

Yesterday's arrivals included a choice line of printed silks marked at 50c a yard; also light and dark flammelettes—over 100 pieces—and some new all-wool dress goods in solid shades.
